

Part-time study programmes and curricular integrity

(Resolution of the FIBAA Accreditation Commission for Programme on 28/02/2005, last amended on 29/11/2012)

In the view of the FIBAA Accreditation Commission part-time programmes need to correspond with the workload of a corresponding full-time programme equivalent. A workload of up to 1,350 hours per year is therefore seen as academically feasible without any additional justification.
